1. Parchment document signed by the chiefs of the Six Nations, with their Tote marks. This is a document transferring the lands of the Six Nations to Thomas and Richard Penn, Proprietors of Pennsylvania. Indian treaties, documents, etc., signed by the Six Nations are of the most excessive rarity. 1250 00
- 2 Long silver pipe, property of Wm. Penn, founder of Pennsylvania. Accompanied by a letter of the later Wm. Penn, relative to it. 250 00
- 3 A very beautiful gold and enamel watch of Richard Penn, son of Wm. Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, and himself proprietor of Pennsylvania. 600 00
- 4 A snuff box made of a small turtle by the Indians, once the Property of William Penn, founder of Penn. 125 00
- 5 Large silver plate, English, 1659. once the property of Wm. Penn, Founder of Pennsylvania, bearing the Penn Coat of Arms and proper Hall Marks. 1250 00
- 6 Four seals of the Penn Family, one with the Penn Coat of Arms, of crystal, mounted in gold; one gold mounted entaglie of a Grecian scene and two large seals 300 00
- 6 ~~a~~ Gold mounted miniature of a lady of the Penn Family, about 1800. 125 00
- 7 Original life size oil painting of John Penn, grandson of William Penn, and himself Proprietor and Governor of Pennsylvania, in original hand-carved frame, period 1770-1780 1500 00
- 8 Original life size oil painting of William Penn, Jr., attributed to Raeburne, period about 1820-30 750 00
- 9 Document signed by Admiral Sir William Penn, father of William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania. Two large engravings of Penn signing the Treaty with the Indians.

Two engravings of William Penn.

Two drawings of a member of the Penn family, 1838.

Two drawings of the later Wm. Penn, 1830

Three engravings of the first Wm. Penn, 1773.

Engraving of Sir Wm. Penn, abt. 1670

Engraving of Wm. Penn, by Pingo, 1770.

" " Lady Juliana Penn, 1832 by Turner

Water-colored portrait of Mrs. Poynton 1836.

Portrait of Miss Hanna Penn, 1836.

A number of other engravings pertaining to the Penn Family.

Book, "History of Pennsylvania," 1797 by Proud.

Bible, with book plate of Richard Penn, 1767, containing much manuscript matter of the births and deaths of the Penn Family.

A quantity of letters written from 1830 to 1845, to the later Penns, containing among other things, information relative to the Penn relics. $400 00

The above mentioned heirlooms were the property of a lady descendant in direct descent from the original William Penn. The Penn Charter particularly is a specimen of Americana which is of an importance hardly likely to be equalled by anything that may later come on the market. This document was the authority by which the Penn Family held Pennsylvania as Proprietors thereof until the time of the American Revolution.
